

i feel xm radio is the best thing to come along since sliced bread. For the truck driver you are not constantly tring to find a radio station to listen to you can listen to the same one from coast to coast. You also know where you can get local traffic and weather without searching all over the dial. If some people don't like it they don't have to subscribe.